Writeup

For my views, I think I did an okay job at making on okay looking views. One problem I immediately see is I'm not utilizing enough space on the Main discovery page. I think that I could have utilized the two halves of the page better. And for the search page utilizing the edges of the pages a bit more would have been beneficial. A good thing about my views is I think I properly used colors and took into consideration my color palette. Overall I think I did an okay job with the views.
